It is--this is the discovery of direct experience or intuition, made by the Soul yearning in love for its heavenly home. The Path of Dialectic The word dialectic, like many other technical terms of Platonism, has helped to confuse modern critics. It means literally the art of discussion, but it has travelled far from its original meaning. Diogenes Laertius¹ quotes Aristotle as saying that the method was invented by Zeno, the Eleatic, from whom it was no doubt borrowed by Socrates. In the Dialogues of Plato it means the art of giving a rational account (Xo yof) of things, and more especially the discovery of the general truths and principles which underlie the discoveries of particular sciences. For instance, the results of mathematical and astronomical science need to be examined by the dialectician.² In the Republic³ Socrates claims that dialectic alone can...
